FRIDAY FEBRUARY 20, 2009, 7-9:30 PM

Film: "SEEING RED" (100 minutes, Jim Kline & Julia Reichert, 1984)

An informed look at the individuals who made up the American Communist Party from the 1930s through the '50s. Fighting for the causes of unionization, unemployment and Social Security benefits, and the eight-hour day, they committed themselves to what they believed was the right way for America. Not just a rosy remembrance, Seeing Red looks critically at the party's connection with the Soviet Union and its lack of internal democracy. An invaluable resource for courses in political science, political sociology, and social movements.

(Event is FREE and open to the public! ...but Donations are kindly accepted).

FRIDAY FEBRUARY 27, 2009, 7-9:30 PM

Film: "CONSUME THIS MOVIE" (80min, Gene Brockhoff, 2008) WITH CECILE ANDREWS +OUR 6th ANNIVERSARY!

Are Americans too materialistic? Are we willfully trashing the planetary ecology in order to serve the desires and drives of the ego? And what, or who could be driving this powerful force of seduction? Americans are finally beginning to challenge our culture of greed and materialism. CONSUME THIS MOVIE stars Cecile Andrews, Juliet Schor, Peter Whybrow and others; and takes a critical look at social injustice, peak oil, resource depletion and our deep need to feel connected to each other through what we choose to consume. Join us for this brand new film and discussion with Cecile Andrews, author of Slow is Beautiful and Circle of Simplicity. www.cecileandrews.com, www.phinneycovillage.org

FRIDAY MARCH 6, 2009, 7-9:30 PM

Film: "UNNATURAL CAUSES: IS INEQUALITY MAKING US SICK?"

(60min, Larry Adelman, 2008) WITH GUESTS FROM THE UW POPULATION HEALTH FORUM

Why is it that at every step down the socio-economic ladder, African Americans, Native Americans and Pacific Islanders often fare worse than their white counterparts? Americans are obsessed with health. We spend more than twice what the average rich country spends per person on medical care, yet we have among the worst disease outcomes, life expectancy and infant mortality of the industrialized nations. And, we have the greatest health inequities.

UNNATURAL CAUSES draws attention to the root causes of health and illness, and shows us that economic, racial and social injustice and inequality are not just abstract concepts, but have very real health consequences. This powerful documentary film suggests to us that effectively addressing these inequalities may, in fact, be one the best medicines of all.

Please join us for facilitated discussion following the film.

(Event is FREE and open to the public! ...but Donations are kindly accepted).

FRIDAY MARCH 13, 2009, 7-9:30 PM

Film: "TRACES OF THE TRADE: A STORY FROM THE DEEP NORTH"

(86 min, Katrina Browne & Alla Kovgan, 2008), WITH ELLY HALE, A MEMBER OF THE DEWOLFE FAMILY.

In TRACES OF THE TRADE, Producer/Director Katrina Browne tells the story of her forefathers, the largest slave-trading family in U.S. history. Given the myth that the South is solely responsible for slavery, viewers will be surprised to learn that Browne's ancestors were Northerners. The film follows Browne and nine fellow family members on a remarkable journey which brings them face-to-face with the history and legacy of New England's hidden enterprise. The issues the DeWolf descendants are confronted with dramatize questions that apply to the nation as a whole: What, concretely, is the legacy of slavery—for diverse whites, for diverse blacks, for diverse others? Who owes who what for the sins of the fathers of this country? What history do we inherit as individuals and as citizens? How does Northern complicity change the equation? What would repair—spiritual and material—really look like and what would it take? "A far-reaching personal documentary examination of the slave trade ... The implications of the film are devastating." — Stephen Holden, The New York Times.

Join us following the film for a community discussion with Elly Hale, a member of the DeWolfe family, and who appears in the film.
