

*Is access to clean drinking water a basic human right?
Or an article of commerce?*

A DOCUMENTARY FILM BY STEPHANIE SOECHTIG & JASON LINDSEY

TAPPED

TAPPED (76 min, 2009) examines the role of the bottled water industry and its effects on our health, economy, climate change, pollution, and our reliance on oil. This remarkable documentary film is a behind-the-scenes look into the unregulated and unseen world of an industry that aims to privatize and sell back the one resource that ought never to become a commodity: our water. Join us following the film for a facilitated discussion.

FRIDAY MARCH 25, 2011, 7-9:30 PM

Film: “THE MOST DANGEROUS MAN IN AMERICA – DANIEL ELLSBERG”

(92 min, Judith Ehrlich & Rick Goldsmith, 2009)

In 1971, Daniel Ellsberg, a leading Vietnam War strategist, concludes that America's role in the war is based on decades of lies. He leaks 7,000 pages of top-secret documents to The New York Times, a daring act of conscience that leads directly to Watergate, President Nixon's resignation and the end of the Vietnam War. Ellsberg and a who's-who of Vietnam-era movers and shakers give a riveting account of those world-changing events. Join us following the film for a facilitated discussion.

(Event is FREE and open to the public! ...but Donations are kindly accepted).

FRIDAY APRIL 1, 2011, 7-9:30 PM

Film: “RETURN TO EL SALVADOR ” (68 min, Jamie Moffett, 2010)

With a Short Film on Guatemala produced by the Social Justice Travel Program at NOVA High School, here in Seattle.

RETURN TO EL SALVADOR, narrated by Martin Sheen, explores the reconstruction of El Salvador, post-civil war. The 12-year conflict (from 1980 to 1992) killed over 75,000 people and displaced nearly one-fifth of the population. The fighting, which took place between the Salvadoran Army and the leftist guerrilla organization, the FMLN, resulted in a staggering number of civilian deaths as the Salvadoran Army bombed and raided villages thought to be sympathetic to the FMLN. Many of these Salvadoran Army soldiers were trained and supported by the United States military at its School of the Americas (now known as WHINSEC), located in Ft. Benning, Georgia. It represents the power and audacity of solidarity, and challenges North Americans to question the global impact of their government on struggling nations.

FRIDAY APRIL 8, 2011, 7-9:30 PM

TRANSITION FRIDAY - An Evening Focused On Positive Solutions at a Local Level!

TOPIC: LOCAL EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

Film: “CASCADIA: THE HIDDEN FIRE” (60 min, Michael Leinau and Lisa Knorr, 2004)

In light of the recent earthquakes in Japan and New Zealand, we'll be examining our own risks here in Seattle, and analyzing what went wrong and right in the responses to these two recent disasters. The film is an extraordinary presentation on the Cascadia Subduction Zone, the same threat that Japan experienced.

“Cascadia: The Hidden Fire” is the riveting story of scientists and ordinary people caught in extraordinary seismic events and discoveries around the globe. It explains the dynamic geology of our Cascadia Region and how and why earthquakes and other seismic-related events occur. The film provides an education on the current earthquake risk and why it is important for residents here to consider natural hazards such as earthquakes. And what these seismic detectives are learning about Cascadia will ultimately benefit the two billion people that live in super-quake prone areas along the Pacific Rim known as the Ring of Fire.

Join us in a facilitated discussion on how we can work together as neighbors and as a community to better prepare for possible disasters, with Transition Seattle, Sustainable Wallingford and Others.

(Event is FREE and open to the public! ...but Donations are kindly accepted).
